The Spanish National Association of University Programmes for Older Adults (Spanish abbreviation AEPUM) is formed by universities that have university training for older adults among their aims. AEPUM is a nonprofit association with university-oriented goals that has recourse to the Organic Law 1/2002 of March 22nd which regulates Freedom of Association.

According to its articles of association, AEPUM has as its main to promote educational university programmes for older adults, thus helping seniors' educational and cultural development. In order to achieve this goal, the Association favours and develops dialogue and communication between universities and public as well as private bodies and institutions. In this way, AEPUM will promote cultural and the search for solutions to satisfy educational needs, acting as an inter-university information and advice centre regarding programmes for older adults, adapting to the principles of autonomy, participation and relationship with its context.

The Association is currently domiciled at the University of Alicante, which assumes the presidency for the period 2014-2018, its sphere of action covering the whole Spanish territory.

It is formed by 45 universities, distributed across the following autonomous regions: Andalusia (9); Madrid (5); Castile and Leon (6); Catalonia (5); Galicia (3); Canary Islands (2); Valencian Community (5); Murcia (2); La Rioja (1); Castile-La Mancha (1); Extremadura (1); Basque Country (1); Principality of Asturias (1); Balearic Islands (1); Cantabria (1); and the UNED (National Distance Learning University). Its action affects more than 48,000 students above 50 years of age who carry out educational activities in the associated centres.

OBJECTIVES

www.aepumayores.org/en

- To promote new educational and cultural strategies related to older adults.
- To guarantee the collaboration and presence of the Association in scientific, academic or cultural university activities.
- To call and organise conferences, meetings, scientific seminars, exchanges or other events, both national and international.
- To coordinate with public institutions studies and projects which are interesting for continuous training within the context for older adult university programmes.
- To collaborate with public and private institutions focused on older adult training.
- To join European programmes with objectives similar to those sought by AEPUM.
- To promote stable financing and institutional support mechanisms for older adult university studies.
- To design and implement actions aimed at promoting educational innovations within the framework of ongoing and lifelong learning.
- To back actions designed to increase international collaboration, especially with those European and Latin American countries which have networks of universities offering university studies addressed to older adults.
- To favor projects and networks meant to favor intergenerational relationships.
- To stimulate research along with the publication of scientific Works, studies, monographs and doctoral theses in the field of older adult education.
- To promote the establishment of grants and other financial help systems.
- To boost and carry out publications for their periodical (e.g. AEPUM bulletin and the Internet portal www.AEPUMayores.org/en) or circumstantial edition (research and documents), concerning topics and matters related to the Association's aims, as well as to collaborate with other mass media which can contribute to a better knowledge of the University and the Association.
- To provide ways of collaboration between Federations and Associations of Older Adult University Programme Students and Alumni and Universities.
- To manage activities which, despite not being explicitly mentioned, are connected with AEPUM's aims.
